Why a Strategic Plan now?

Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) developed the Fiscal Year 2023-2028 Strategic Plan through a six-month comprehensive process. Our intention is to clearly convey our mission, vision, values, and goals to the public, internal leadership, and workforce.

This Strategic Plan is a framework that allows us to respond to the changing environment, enabling us to remain resilient and be a catalyst for positive change in the region. We are more than just a transit organization; we are also an economic driver that stimulates community investment.

Building upon the work completed as part of NEXTransit, our long-range transportation plan, PRT is building a bright future. We are tasked with the challenge of implementing new services and investing in existing infrastructure to grow a transit system that meets the greater needs of the region.

We have the opportunity to embrace a new vision for transit: dignified loads and frequencies, increased community investment, ties to economic development, and playing a lead role in transforming the region with a commitment to equity and inclusion.

Our Mission
Advance our region by investing in our communities and connecting people in a safe, equitable, and reliable manner.

Our Vision
Be our region’s transportation mode of choice by delivering an innovative network that is clean, sustainable, and equitable; a network that enables individuals, businesses, and economies to thrive.

What We Value
We have identified six values that fundamentally guide our operations not only today, but as we move forward.

- Collaboration
- Flexibility
- Equity
- Customer Service
- Integrity
- Safety
Major Transit Trends

- Increase in Ridership. Ridership has rebounded by approximately 50% from the pandemic lows. FY2023 budget forecasts a 15% increase next year.

- Operator Shortage. The transit industry has been affected with nationwide operator shortages due to layoffs and early retirements during the pandemic.

- Changing Demographics. Only 22% of Allegheny County’s population lives within a half-mile of the PRT rapid transit network. Residential development is growing in areas not currently served by high-speed transit, making it difficult to provide transit service at an affordable cost.

- Capital Budget. Approximately $185M is needed annually to support Pittsburgh Regional Transit’s current system. The FY2023 Capital Improvement Program contains funding for the first phase of the Oakland-to-Downtown bus rapid transit project, which is expected to break ground in 2023. It also includes a bus purchase of 107 vehicles, the equivalent of two years worth of normal vehicle replacement levels.

- Implementing NEXTransit. PRT is continuing to implement the 25-year long range transportation plan through a series of priority projects and has made significant accomplishments, such as installing digital signage at stations and starting construction on the Negley Station redesign.

Strategic Themes

PRT identified six themes that are integrated throughout the Strategic Plan. Decisions will be made with these themes in mind, ensuring that we continue to deliver high quality, equitable transit services into the future.

National Leader

Pittsburgh Regional Transit seeks to be a “best in class” transit system by being at the forefront of industry best practices and trends.

Innovation

Pittsburgh Regional Transit will employ innovation in a meaningful way to benefit its stakeholders and support organizational goals and objectives.

Equity

Pittsburgh Regional Transit strives to incorporate equity and inclusion into all decision-making processes.

Customer Service

Serving its various customers is core to Pittsburgh Regional Transit’s mission, whether it be riders, businesses, employees, or the community at large.

Financial Stewardship

To maintain the trust and confidence of the public, Pittsburgh Regional Transit will ensure it is a good steward of all funding received through creative funding approaches, sound decision-making, and allocating resources wisely.

Culture

Shared core values help to establish Pittsburgh Regional Transit’s public image, and inspire proactive employee engagement, productivity, staff retention, and cultivate a work environment that fosters communication and collaboration.
